A Whole Year of Good Things

We want people to read this little paper. Especially do we want Anderson alumni and ministers to read it. But they will not read it just because we suggest that they do so. These are days when there are many things clamoring for the eye of the reading public. There is so much to be read that even some Christian people are tempted to neglect the reading of the Scriptures in order to keep up with the vast stream of reading matter which flows from printing presses.

So if we are to get people to read our Seminary Broadcaster we must have articles which will interest them, and these articles must be upon subjects of vital interest. We are presenting in this issue the Broadcaster menu for a whole year. These writers are not novices. They are leaders in our church work; preachers and educators whose many years of faithful work and careful thinking have brought them to the place where their opinions merit the respect of those who read.

Every month for a whole year the pages of this little paper will carry a strong article from the pen of one of these writers. And these articles will not be dashed off without thought. We have asked the writers to take time to be thoughtful. Don't fail to read what they have to say.

Besides the leading article each month there will be the usual and more than the usual amount of news notes about the school activities and the whereabouts and labors of former students and alumni. AND ALL THIS FOR THE SUM OF FIFTY CENTS.

WRITER FOR NOVEMBER

DEAN RUSSELL OLT
President of International Young People's Convention

Throughout the church Dean Olt is recognized as a leader of youth. He has recently written a book on matters pertaining to young people and for years he has been actively connected with our State and National young people's work. He understands and believes in young people. That is the reason we have asked him to discuss in the November number of our little paper "Youth and Social Problems."

WRITER FOR AUGUST

REV. W. B. MCCREARY
President of Board of Sunday Schools and Religious Education

He will write on "The Human and the Divine in Religious Education."

WRITER FOR SEPTEMBER

REV. CHAS. W. NAYLOR
Author

Brother Naylor will discuss in his characteristic thorough manner a very live issue. For a quarter of a century tens of thousands have read and enjoyed his articles in the religious press. In the September issue of the Broadcaster he will discuss with us "The Problem of Christian Unity."

WRITER FOR OCTOBER

PROF. FORREST C. WEIR

From a boy Rev. Weir has been a keen thinker and diligent student of social and religious life. For two years he has been on the teaching staff of the Seminary but is entering Yale University this fall to do work towards his Ph.D., degree. Brother Weir believes in the message of the gospel as a cure for modern ills. In October he will write on "Is the Gospel of Jesus Christ Adequate?"

In football it's Grit.
In spinach it's terrible.

WRITER FOR DECEMBER

REV. ADAM W. MILLER
Pastor, Federalsburg, Md.

Although still a young man, Brother Miller is generally recognized as a forceful preacher and a clear thinker. He has had several years of experience on the mission field in Japan. In the December issue he will present an article on "Jesus Christ and Christian Unity."

Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream, and don't shirk,
Don't think of your worries, but think of your work.
The worries will vanish, the work will be done,
No man sees his shadow, who faces the sun.

WRITER FOR JANUARY

DR. CHAS. E. BROWN
Editor of the Gospel Trumpet

Superficial people have always insisted that there is a conflict between religion and knowledge. The battle between so-called science and so-called religion has raged through the centuries. Dr. Brown, in the January issue, will have something to say on the subject: "Religious Belief and Science."

WRITER FOR FEBRUARY

DR. HERBERT M. RIGGLE
Secretary, Board of Foreign Missions

"We do not need any more mass evangelism" some body is always piping up. They are always talking as if the fiery evangelist, the big crowd, the mighty moving songs, the altar bench, the penitential tears—in fact all that goes with what we call "old time" evangelism is entirely out of date and good for nothing but to be forgotten. Personal evangelism, they say, is the only method. Then on the other hand there are those extremists who are inclined to doubt a man's religious experience unless he got it in a big revival meeting. Is there not something good in both methods? Dr. Riggle, one of the most successful evangelists of our day will discuss "Effective Methods in Evangelism." Watch the February issue for his article.

"It is a great wonder that the vast intellect that first coined the phrase Beer Is Liquid Bread' didn't add 'A Chaw of Tobacco Is Solid Milk!'"

—Clipsheet

WRITER FOR MARCH

PROF. EARL L. MARTIN

As a preacher, pastor, and student of Theology for many years, Brother Martin ought to know something about the church and the program for which she stands. As a teacher of young people for many years he ought to know something about youth and her needs. "The Church and Her Youth" will be the subject for the March issue of the Broadcaster. Professor Martin will be the writer.

WRITER FOR APRIL

REV. E. F. ADCOCK, Class of '21
Secretary, Board of Church Extension and Home Missions

This world of ours is in a state of constant change. This is true physically, socially, religiously. "Passing" seems to be written in large letters across the face of the universe. Many sensitive souls are confused. They know not which way to turn to find that which is permanent. But, thank God, some things do abide. "Unchanging Things In a Changing World," is an article from the interesting pen of E. F. Adcock. Keep an eye open for the April number.

TEN BUSINESS COMMANDMENTS

Work hard.
Study hard.
Have initiative.
Love your work.
Be exact.
Have courage.
Be friendly.
Cultivate personality.
Wear a smile.
Do your best.

WRITER FOR MAY

REV. STEELE C. SMITH, Class of '24
Pastor, Oklahoma City, Okla.

"Just a few more years and the preacher is no more, he is rapidly passing out." It was a Doctor of Divinity who spoke, and he was addressing a group of ministers at a theological conference. He said that the modern car was not tuned in on this thing we call preaching. What about it? Is the preacher with his prayer, his sermon, his psalm, his song a necessary part of our busy world, or will he, like the Model T Ford soon be a thing of the past? "Is The Preacher Passing?" will be Steele C. Smith's subject in May. An interesting subject, indeed.

WRITER FOR JUNE

DR. JOHN A. MORRISON
President of Anderson College and Theological Seminary

These are days of strong opposition. If you can't explain it; don't believe it, they say. If Christianity is not supernatural, it is a sham. The June issue of this paper will carry an article by J. A. Morrison entitled, "Christianity, A Supernatural Religion."

WE'RE COUNTING ON YOU

"No matter what others are doing, my dear,
Or what they are leaving undone,
We are counting on you to keep right on the job
Till the very last battle is won.
We are counting on you to be faithful,
We are counting on you to be true.
Yes, others may work, or others may shirk,
But remember—we are counting on you."

WRITER FOR JULY

MISS HELEN PERCY, Class of '23
Editor of Young People's Friend

Miss Percy has been asked to write an article for next July issue on "Some Unchristian Aspects of Modern Civilization." She has kindly consented to write on that subject or else write on one of her own choosing. She has a whole year to decide on the subject and prepare the article, so at any rate we shall expect something good.

DO NOT JUDGE TOO HARD

Pray don't find fault with the man who limps,

Or stumbles along the road,
Unless you have worn the shoes he wears

Or struggled beneath his load.
There may be tacks in his shoes
that hurt,

Tho' hidden away from view,
Or the burden he bears, placed on your back,

Might cause you to stumble, too.

Don't sneer at the man who's down
today,

Unless you have felt the blow
That caused his fall, or felt the same

That only the fallen know.
You may be strong, but still the blows

That were his, if dealt to you
In the self-same way at the self-same time,

Might cause you to stagger—too.

Don't be too harsh with the man who sins

Or pelt him with words or stones.
Unless you are sure, yea, doubly
sure,

That you have no sins of your own.

For you know, perhaps, if the temper's voice

Should whisper as soft to you
As it did to him when he went astray,

'Twould cause you to falter, too.

ROBERT L. BERRY RE-ELECTED SECRETARY OF THE ASSOCIATED BUDGETS

Soon after the camp meeting at Anderson the representatives of the various boards on the Associated Budgets Committee met and reorganized and laid plans for the new budget year. J. A. Morrison was re-elected chairman and H. M. Riggle was elected Vice-chairman. R. L. Berry who had served in the capacity of Executive Secretary during the year just closed was re-elected to that position. The personnel of the Budgets Committee now is H. M. Riggle, representing the Missionary Board, E. F. Adecock, representing the Church Extension Board, A. T.

Rowe, representing the Gospel Trumpet Company, W. B. McCreary, representing the Sunday School Board and J. A. Morrison representing the college and Seminary. A. T. Rowe and W. B. McCreary are new members, taking the places of D. W. Patterson and L. Helen Percy respectively.

The various boards and their executives are wholeheartedly back of Brother Berry, their Secretary, in his efforts to put the Budgets across. The Secretary and various members of the Committee are visiting this summer in many churches and camp meetings presenting the various needs of these causes. New congregations are constantly being added to the list of those which are pledging to support all the general interests which the church has established. Let us all pull together for the advancement of the work of God.

THE SILENT TREE

The silent tree stands true and real
Yet speaks to all what it must feel
Of truth and honor, strength and grace

Which give to it a cherished place.
It has no thought to tell a host
Of wondrous glories it might boast,
But all it represents and feels
Speak well for it in mute appeals.

The silent tree is worthy quite
And holds a place of beauty bright,
No fairer things could one behold
Than just a tree. Through heat or cold

It gathers strength to meet the fray
And grows in worth from day to day

Until long years of time have passed,
Each one more worthy than the last.

BRIDGE OUT, DETOUR!

Mary Larkin-Cook

Have you ever seen the sign
As you traveled on so fine
Thinking all would be O.K.
As you hurried on your way,
When all at once right on ahead
Where you are sure your path is led,
You sadly spy so clear and sure,
A sign which says, "BRIDGE
OUT; DETOUR?"

Then maybe you will think and say,
"Perhaps it's all right anyway,
So I believe I'll take a chance,"
So merrily you will advance,
But when you get there, dearie me,
'Tis as the sign had said 'Twould be,

And then you'll learn that you have found
There is no place to turn around!

So what a lot of time you'll lose
When you will go ahead and choose
The very thing to bring you woe
But you won't see the thing is so!
It surely is the better plan
To mind the warning when you can,
For you will save much time, I'm
sure,

To heed that sign, "BRIDGE
OUT; DETOUR!"

WITH THE ALUMNI

Anna Koglin, Editor

We Miss Her

On June 9 a beautiful character was transported to another realm where there is no pain, no heart-aches, no worries. Where glories abound which cannot be uttered.

Luella completed a course in Religious Education in 1926 and had since that time been employed by the Board of Church Extension and Home Missions as general office secretary. During this time she worked in the local churches and pursued her course at the college toward a B.A. degree. Had she been able to attend commencement exercises on the night of June 7, she would have had this degree conferred upon her. But due to the fact that for several months her health had been failing, she became an easy prey to typhoid fever which caused her death just two days after school closed.

I worked with Miss Rowe, at Meadowbrook church, and was associated with her in classes in the school for three years and I do not know how to express the loss we feel in her having been taken from us. She was true blue in every particular and even though we know that God doeth all things well, it is hard to understand how such a valuable worker in the prime of her life could be so taken. But he knoweth best.

Many alumni and friends mourn her loss. May we as did she, so live that even though our days be short, they will be filled with hard tasks well done.

ALUMNI BANQUET

On Tuesday evening, June 21, last, around sixty alumni and guests gathered at Dr. J. A. Morrison's and enjoyed the annual banquet of the Alumni Association.

The affair was staged on the beautiful lawn of Dr. Morrison's home. One specially interesting feature of the program was the special songs by the ladies' quartette of the college. We regret that this splendid quartette is now scattered over the states.

Rev. E. E. Perry of Detroit, Mich., gave the address of the evening. Other short speeches were made by Lowry Quinn of Lansdale, Pa.; Lee Roy Abbott, of Anderson, Ind.; J. T. Wilson, of Eastland, Tex.; and Prof. Morrison of Anderson. Mack Caldwell of Clinton, Iowa acted as toastmaster.

In the business session the by-laws of the association were amended, to define the duties of the Alumni Editor for the "Broadcaster" staff. The officers elected for the year 1932-33 are: Walter Shriner of Belding, Mich., as president; Edgar Bush of Calif., as vice-president; Anna Koglin as Alumni Editor; and Mrs. Edgar Williams as secretary-treasurer.

As usual the refreshments were enjoyed by all and many happy moments spent chatting with old friends.

The following names include most of those present and we regret that we do not have the names of all; Eunice Cortner, Mary Schmidt, Lillian Bauch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kardatzke, Mrs. Sheldon Helms, Mrs. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Harry House, Mary Renbeck, Elva Wills, Lawrence Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Dooty, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millar, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin, Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Dawson, Violet Marsh, George Palmer, Ed Marti, Helen Bengtsen, Mr. L. L. Rawlings, Mrs. Edgar Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crowell, Mary Hunter, Frederick Schminke, Merle Dierolf, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paris, Mrs. Stephenson, R. D. Schultz, J. R. Tackett, Blanche Seasholtz, Opal Davis, Clarence Peyton, Mrs. Ralph Benson, Mrs. John Lackey, Mrs. Russel Olt, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Johnson.

NEWS FROM THE LORDS

The congregation at Cincinnati under the leadership of Rev. C. H. Lord and wife has been growing steadily. Recently they had 200 in Sunday school. Reverend Lord, '29 states that they have been ably assisted by former students and Alumni. At this time G. R. Dodge, formerly Purchasing-Agent for the Gospel Trumpet Company, Myrl and Dorothy (Dolly Morrison) Ahrendt, and Arthur and Grace (Phelps) Lumm, '28 and '30 are active members of the congregation in Cincinnati. Sister Lord says that they expect to send a delegation of Young People to the International Convention which is to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, September 1-4.

PRETTY SOON

Most lives are small because most people put off the big proposition until tomorrow. The best ideas like the best fish are the ones that get away. We get them to the surface, feel the thrill of their bigness but we put off trying to land them and they slip back into the might-have-been. We think we will have more time tomorrow, because we see only a part of tomorrow's obstacles and requirements, and when another day comes the dream still lingers in the slowly fading light of another tomorrow. Here is a good place to quote a poem, "Pretty Soon," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox: I know a land where the streets are paved

With the things which we meant to achieve.

It is walled with the money we meant to have saved

And the pleasures for which we grieve.

It is farther at noon than it was at dawn

And farther at night than noon.

O let us beware of that land down there—

The land of "Pretty Soon."
