

NEW GYMNASIUM NUMBER

THIS IS THE OLD BARN—DRESSED UP A LITTLE

Every one who has visited the Anderson College or the Anderson Camp Meeting remembers seeing the old concrete block building located a few rods to the east and to the north of the main College and Seminary building. It has been a fine old building in its day, but years ago it served its purpose. I well remember the first time I ever saw the building. It was twenty-five years ago. At that time, it was used as a barn for the cows and horses which were kept by the Trumpet family. In fact, it was built for a barn. When I first saw it, hay was in the loft, corn was in the crib, horses and cattle were in the stalls. But many changes come in a quarter of a century. No more do we keep horses; no more do we keep cows; no more is hay in the loft and corn in the crib.

For many years now, the old barn building has been out of use except as a place to store old plunder. Some years ago it caught on fire, and the roof and inside woodwork were destroyed. We carried insurance on it, and the insurance company rebuilt it.

A few months ago somebody got a brand new idea with reference to the old barn building. It was the idea of tearing it down and converting it into a new gymnasium, which is so sorely needed by the College and Seminary. Of course, the old building will have to be torn down and the new building would require a vast amount of new material. Nevertheless, the cement blocks, the inside timber, and the roofing material could all be salvaged, thus making a great saving in the construction of a new building. Other articles in this little paper will tell of the urgent need of a new building to serve jointly as a gymnasium, an auditorium, and a place to house the biology and chemistry laboratories.

The students and the alumni fell upon the idea of raising one mile of dimes in order to have funds to tear down the old building and raise the new one in its place. They are working hard. Nearly everybody around the School has a container for dimes, and everybody is being asked to do his bit.

Why a New Building for Anderson College

By Herman Smith

General chairman, Student Committee

The proposed new building for Anderson College will certainly fill acute needs. Next looks as though it will be a banner year for the enrollment of the school with a minimum goal of three hundred students. A great problem that is facing us, however, is how we will be able to take care of this group for chapel and assembly periods. This new building will solve that problem by providing necessary room.

For physical education purposes, the camp ground dining hall has long been inadequate. We were thankful, of course, for the use of it, but it fails to meet the present need. The floor space is small, the seating room on the sides is limited, there is no space for lockers or showers, the ceiling is low and yet no great amount of remodeling could be done without spoiling its usefulness as a dining hall. It has become more and more embarrassing to invite teams from schools who boast fine gymnasiums into our improvised one. However, with the completion of the new building, we will have provisions for physical education equipment that we will be proud to exhibit to anyone who may be visiting the college.

Only those who have endured the stifling fumes issuing from the chemistry laboratory can realize the need of having the laboratories outside the main building. It cannot be done now, but with the completion of the new building, adequate space will be given to this purpose.

This building will also provide extra dormitory space for camp meetings and in the basement will be valuable storage space for farm produce for the dining hall.

The time is ripe for an expansion move. The city of Anderson is looking toward the college to mark its advancement. A building program, such as the one proposed would attract wide attention and help us to broaden our usefulness in the city and in the church. This building program will also provide employment for a great many students and thus make it possible for many to come to school who otherwise could not come.

This program is a step forward for Anderson College and is a step we want to see repeated in the future, but we must put this step over first and with the faith and cooperation of friends, students, and alumni scattered over the nation, we expect to see this building project become a great success.

Alumni Enthusiastic About Project

Just to show the attitude of the Alumni toward this great undertaking of building a new gym and auditorium let us quote a few excerpts from some of their letters:

"We were glad to learn that you are going to have a different gymnasium. We are sending some money for it." Susie Marti.—(The Marti's sent $15 for the fund.)

"Enclosed you will find $5 for the erection of the new gymnasium for Anderson College. I am in hearty accord with the plan. I wish you success. Yours for the College, (Signed) Edgar L. Busch

Dear Brother Morrison:

I have been looking for just this move for a long time. Ever since I was on the varsity basket-ball team back in the spring of 1924 I have been wishing that something could be done, and would be done about the matter of getting an adequate gymnasium for the College and Seminary. And now the move is on foot, and I am glad to know about it. Furthermore, I am glad to cooperate just all that I can toward seeing it through to a successful conclusion. I happen to be located in a section of the state and country in which there are no other graduates or former students of the school, but I will do what I can anyway. I shall send in my check for a yard of dimes just as soon as our funds for teaching are available, and it is my sincere desire and purpose to make it three yards if I can possibly do so—and I think that I can.

I am FOR THE COLLEGE, Brother Morrison, one hundred per cent, and I want to do anything and everything that I can for its betterment. I feel sure that this gymnasium-auditorium is one other thing that the college is seriously in need of.

I think of you dear brethren there in the school very often and pray for you that the dear Lord may ever give you wisdom to know how and what to do in every instance. All of us need much of God in our lives, and much of God in the college will make it a better place for boys and girls, of course.

If I can ever be of any service to you or to the school in any way, I shall be very glad to serve. Just call on me.

Yours for Christian education,
Orville C. Horne

STUDENTS WORKING HARD TO RAISE FUNDS

By Ed Williams

Practically every student has sent dime-cards to their friends in an effort to raise funds for the new building. Many have given from a foot ($1.60) to a yard of dimes themselves out right. Others have pledged to pay in at least $1.60 by June 1.

Nine students have given a yard or more to date:

Cecil Byrd, Thomas Hethcoat, Helen Martin, Dan and Esther Martin, Crystal Beaver, Adeline Jesswein, Wendell Byrd, Arlin Kardatzke, Ruth Kardatzke, Edgar Williams.

Others who have given a foot or more but less than three feet are Cecil Brown, Joe Montague, Claire Shultz, Pearl Parkhurst, Goldie Parkhurst, Fred Pinyoun, Eugene Sterner, Paul Horne, Lucille McGraw, Ruthven Neff, and Lucy DeMuth.

ALUMNI OFFICERS SPEAK

Fellow Alumni and Former Students:

On April 8 the Alumni Gymnasium Committee sent a letter concerning the proposed gym to all graduates and former students. Doubtless you received your copy. In this letter the Committee stated that the goal for all former students was two thousand feet of the mile of dimes, and that they looked for each one to send in at least three feet of dimes by June 1, if possible, or one-half by June 14 and the other half not later than October 1.

It has been nearly six weeks since this letter was sent out. Although the letters called for no immediate response, several have written in and heartily endorsed the move, saying they would do their part. Some have already sent in their contributions. We feel, however, that we should appeal once more to every former student to stand by the present student body who have initiated and are promoting this project in the interest of A.C.T.S. While it is true that most of us are not making much money, yet we all wish to have a part in an undertaking that will benefit our Alma Mater. The building of a suitable gym is undoubtedly the most worth while and most helpful project that the alumni and former students can cooperate in at the present time.

May we, as your officers, appeal to every loyal former student everywhere to send in your quota of dimes by June 1, or at least by June 14, Commencement Day? Let us not disappoint the students here who are depending on us for our whole-hearted cooperation in this worthy enterprise.

President of the National Alumni Association

P.S.—An interesting program is being planned for the alumni banquet. It will be held this year in the college dining room on Monday, at five o'clock. The cost will be thirty-five cents a plate. Come and spend a pleasant evening with your old classmates and friends. We shall be looking for you.

"Why Don't You Improve Yourself?"

One day two pastors were talking together and they naturally drifted to the subject of their work and how they were getting along. Pastor number one said, "For some reason my sermons seem to be getting dry, and I am having difficulty in putting new materials and ideas into them. I do not understand why this is; when I first began my ministry I did not have as much difficulty in preparing my sermons. I could build a sermon in one half the time and with much less effort. What do you suppose is the reason for this?"

Pastor number two replied, "I too have had the same difficulty. It worried me a great deal and I prayed earnestly about it. God gave me encouragement, but I did not get victory over my trouble. One day I saw an article about studying at home. As I read the article I felt impressed to take up the study of one course. I did this and I was greatly surprised at the help I received in building my sermons for I could put new materials into them. I had not realized before that I had given my congregation all I knew and that I was using the same thoughts over and over till they were becoming stale. I see now that I needed growth myself in order that I might give food to my group."

"Where can I get courses of study that I can work on at home?" the first pastor asked.

"Just the other day I noticed a short note in the Gospel Trumpet that Anderson College and Theological Seminary is making a special offer until after the June Camp Meeting on ministerial courses which they offer by correspondence. You can get a forty-lesson course for only $14.00. These courses ordinarily cost $17.50. This special offer gives a reduction of twenty per cent."

"I am going to arrange to take a course," said Pastor number one. "I believe it will help me with my problem."

A number of other pastors may be experiencing the same difficulty as Pastor number one, and desire the same help. The courses listed

THE NEW GYMNASIUM IS NOW POSSIBLE

By Cecil J. Brown

When school opens again this fall, former students and new students will all join together in the dedication of the New Gymnasium—if we all work to make our dreams real.

This has been the dream of some of the students for several years, and no less has it been the big need. The Gospel Trumpet gym is no longer adequate for our athletic program, and the introduction of the science departments in the enlarged curriculum of the college has cramped the institution for space. The new building to be erected on the east campus will meet both these urgent needs.

On the main floor will be a maximum sized basket-ball floor with bleachers on each side and a stage in one end which will make it possible to use the gym as an auditorium when necessary.

The biology and chemistry departments will be modern and far superior to the cramped space we now have.

Students and alumni are all working hard to raise the necessary funds. Several nice gifts have been made by friends of the school and we hope before many weeks to see actual work begun.

Everyone working on this big project is happily encouraged at the wonderful response given by all who have been approached. It is encouraging to know that so many of our people are enthusiastically behind Anderson College and Theological Seminary and are anxious to see it grow and meet the needs and demands of the youth of the church.

Any friend of the college and seminary who will join us in helping finance this new gymnasium, auditorium and science department, will be contributing to a worthy cause still dedicated to the glory of God and the training of youth in Christian principles by Christian professors.
