Dr. Byrum Resigns from Seminary Faculty

In the June issue of the Broadcaster, mention was made of a rumor to the effect that Dr. Russell R. Byrum's teaching on the doctrine of Unity was questioned. Therefore it becomes necessary to make a statement here as to the outcome of the matter. When Brother Byrum spoke on Unity in the Indiana Assembly last April a number of brethren took strong exceptions to his position. Among those who took exception were two members of the Seminary Board of Trustees. When the Board met on June 14, written complaint was made to the Board by these two members stating that Dr. Byrum had taught things out of harmony with the reformation movement. Since Brother Byrum was a member of the Seminary's Doctrinal Committee, it was impossible for that Committee to act on the question in hand. The Board, therefore, appointed a committee of fifteen representative ministers to investigate the charges. Each member of the fifteen was approved by the two members of the Board who preferred the charges and also by the Seminary's Executive Committee. There were three members of the Board who were not considered biased in the matter and they were asked to act with the committee of fifteen, making eighteen in all. When the hearing was held, two of the fifteen could not be present leaving sixteen to hear the case. Sixty-four ministers were present at the hearing which continued for the better part of two days. During the hearing, not one unbrotherly word was uttered, for which we were all thankful. The Committee of sixteen, after hearing the evidence, retired to make their decision. The next morning they reported to the General Assembly as follows:

"As a committee we wish to report that we do not support the views that Brother Byrum was commonly reported to hold, but after two days' conference with Brother Byrum during which he explained his position, we found that he had been misunderstood. In this conference he explained to us and convinced us that his teaching was not essentially different from that generally held and practised among us.

"We stand for the old time teaching of this reformation, and it is our sentiment that the faculty of the Seminary should exercise great care in teaching so as to avoid the teaching prematurely of any theory or doctrine that is calculated to cause confusion or agitation in the church or ministry.

"We do not question the honesty and Christian integrity of any of those vitally concerned, and plead for all to say little, pray much, and 'endeavor to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bonds of peace.'"

After the above report was read to the Assembly, Brother Byrum felt that, even tho he was exonerated by the Committee of sixteen, his presence on the faculty would be looked upon with suspicion by many honest brethren who would not have an opportunity to learn the facts in the case. Therefore he felt that he should quietly resign, which he did. His resignation came as a severe blow to the Board, the faculty, the student body, the alumni, and scores of our older ministers. It is unfortunate that the School should have to sacrifice a man who has given twenty-five years to a patient study of God's Word. But such is his choice rather than take the chance of causing a division among the brethren. Brother Byrum will remain in Anderson for the time being and Mrs. Byrum will continue on the faculty.

Brother Byrum's place will be filled the coming year by Bro. A. F. Gray and Bro. Earl L. Martin. Brother Gray will teach Old and New Testament Interpretation and Brother Martin will teach Systematic Theology. Both of these men are widely known to the church as painstaking theological scholars. They have both written and preached extensively on Christian doctrine. They are progressive thinkers and are loyal to the Scriptures.

We regret very much that the misunderstanding has arisen for we believe that the whole controversy largely grew out of misunderstanding. As stated in the June Broadcaster, it is the Seminary's every wish to keep its teaching in harmony with that of the ministry on the field. We have no new doctrines to promulgate, but we merely wish to advance in thought along with our brethren in the field. Altho the committee whose names appear above, vindicated the School's position on the doctrine of unity, yet we feel that it would be unbrotherly and unwise to push the points in controversy until our ministry are more nearly unanimous in regard to them. Our brethren are sincere and seeking for the truth and if a position is really true, we will all embrace it sooner or later. If it is not true, no honest man wants to hold it. Truth can afford to wait. Therefore the Seminary will do its best to avoid these points of controversy. Those brethren who have questioned the teaching in the School may advocate their position or not as they feel God would have them do. We must get along as brethren. We are not enemies.

When faith evaporates there is a speedy departure of Spiritual power.—Spurgeon

OUR NEW NAME

Since the meeting of the Assembly in June, we are announcing the new name of the school—Anderson College and Theological Seminary. The Board of Trustees voted last February to change the name in accordance with the work which is being offered. The Assembly ratified the new Articles of Incorporation defining the new powers and bearing the new name of the institution. Already it has been suggested that the new name is awkwardly long. We have known this all along. I know of no one who is perfectly satisfied with the new name. But naming an institution is not wholly an arbitrary proposition. Certain facts must be taken into consideration. Anderson University would have been the short and handy name. But strictly speaking the school is not a university, according to careful usage of that term. An institution does not recommend itself to the educational public by calling itself what in reality it is not. However, in the popular mind the term university has a wide meaning and some institutions which are really colleges have felt justified in using the term university in their name. With these we have no quarrel, but for ourselves we do not choose the name. Just Anderson College would have been acceptable to many, but we felt that we could not give up the name Seminary since we are to emphasize theological teaching no less than in former years. Anderson has been, is, and shall be, a real theological seminary. We could not surrender the name. All told, our present name, though undesirably long, seems to be the only name suitable to the thing we are doing. We believe it will last at least a quarter of a century.

OUR SEMINARY MALE QUARTET

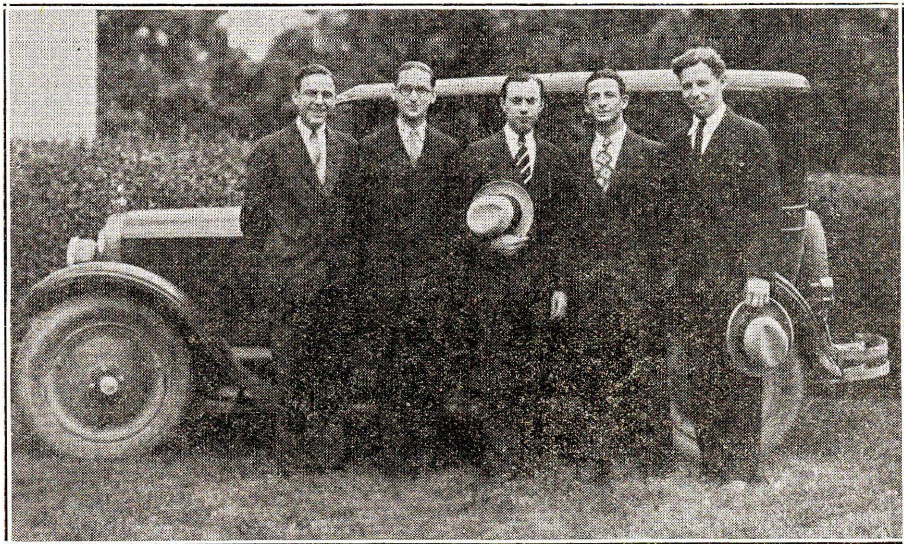

The other afternoon an automobile, piled high with suitcases, brief cases, Seminary literature, and windows decorated with Seminary stickers, drove away from the south campus of the Seminary. In the car were five joyful, earnest young men—Oral Clemons, Streeter Stuart, Earl Wells and Frank Towers, constituting the Seminary male quartet. The fifth member of the group was E. S. Reynolds, owner and driver of the car in which the boys are traveling, and Managing Editor of the Broadcaster. These boys are spending the summer vacation touring the country singing the gospel message. Their schedule takes them to many and distant parts of the country. They are of the highest type of Christian young men and are sure to bring a blessing to the thousands who will hear them. They are out under the auspices of the College and we commend them to our brethren everywhere. They could spend the summer in many various and questionable ways as thousands of college students are doing but they have chosen to work for the Master, trusting Him for traveling expenses. If they visit your territory, give them the heart and hand of warm welcome and they will do you good.

The wealth of nations is nothing to the wealth of Jesus.—Spurgeon

OUR PRAYER PLEDGE

Do we believe in prayer? Do we believe that prayer changes things? Do we believe that a man can speak to God in behalf of another man who may be a thousand miles away and that God will answer by speaking to the distant man? In just a few weeks we shall be in the very midst of a great campaign to raise a half million dollars in behalf of Christian education, in behalf of Christian evangelism, in behalf of a clean, pure church, in behalf of thousands of earnest, hopeful youth, in behalf of the kingdom of God. This is the greatest project the reformation movement has ever undertaken. It is to answer the question of the world whether or not the Church of God is big enough, broad enough, strong enough, aggressive enough, spiritual enough, consecrated enough to provide adequately for the training of her young people. The world is looking on and asking, Will she succeed or will she go down in failure in this great effort? Every minister and every member of the movement and every alumnus of the School will suffer if she should fail. Hundreds of our young people in high school this fall will be asked if the effort succeeded. High school principals and officials will be inquiring whether or not Anderson College is to be accredited. Is God interested in this project, then? Does He hold himself aloof from the un-

They Honored Us

Through the years Anderson College and Theological Seminary has had no better friends than the men whose likenesses appear in this column.

Brother J. T. Wilson, more than any other one man, was responsible for the founding of the school. Back in the days when we were told by good brethren that we could not and should not have such a school, Brother Wilson stood right up and said out loud that we could and should. Now we all see that he was right. And now Dr. Wilson is determined that the church shall have an institution of higher learning in the southwest and he is building at Eastland, Texas, Warner Memorial University. Will he succeed? Well, he succeeded in the case of Anderson and we believe he is succeeding in Texas. Aside from his work in the educational field, Brother Wilson more than a quarter of a century. As a preacher, as a pastor, as a missionary, as a leader, as a Christian character of the very highest type, he has been respected by all who know him. He has stood loyally by the Anderson College and Theological Seminary from the very beginning and has been active in the promulgation of that high type of Christian education which Anderson stresses and which she holds as second in importance only to the religion of the Lord Jesus.

At the commencement in June, the School was highly honored in being privileged to confer upon Brother Wilson and Brother Reardon the Doctor of Divinity degree.

Dr. J. Turner Wilson

has distinguished himself as a preacher of the gospel of the Lord. He was pastor of the Park Place church at the time the splendid edifice in which the church now worships was erected.

VIOLET MARSH, EDITOR

GREETINGS

You have repeatedly heard the saying, "If you want to get a job done, get a busy man to do it." I suppose the Alumni must have remembered this adage when they elected me as editor of their column in the Broadcaster, for I can think of no other qualification I have for the position except that I am exceedingly busy.

But you may have made a mistake, after all. For you know when one is used to working so very hard himself, he is inclined to be unmerciful with others in the matter of work and expect a great deal of them also. The person who works less and spends more time in leisure is more inclined to be sympathetic toward one who succumbs to the temptation to spend his time at something easier than to prepare the material that has been requested of him, and send it in to the editor.

Well, anyway, true to type, I shall start off my term by asking you to do something. Every month we try to collect all the bits of news we can get concerning weddings, deaths, births, change of location, etc., in our ranks. We want you to continue to send these bits of news in, everyone you can get hold of, whether you are sure they are worthy of publication or not. (Let us be the judge of that.)

In addition we should like to publish at least one each month of interesting experiences that occur in your work. It may be a remarkable case of healing, an unexpected conversion, or something like that. Those of you who labor in the field are familiar with such incidents. Others are interested in them and are glad to read how God is blessing your labors and manifesting his power through your ministry.

I am asking for this so that we may have something of value to put in our column in the Broadcaster. Am I going to get it? I have decided to follow the system I understand Dean Olt uses in his Public Speaking class in calling for speeches. He asks first for volunteers. Perhaps one or two will volunteer. Perhaps none. Then he says, "Well, we'll start down the line," and proceeds to call on the members.

Now if you do not volunteer to send in something, I shall start down the line and call on you. Better do it now and get it over with.

I want to make the Alumni column in the Broadcaster the very best possible. But I shall need your help to do it. Come on with a shower of letters!

Yours for the success of this column,
Violet Marsh

A number of the Alumni Society are taking their places on various church boards and committees. He addressed the ministers at an 8:00 o'clock service. Reports say the sermon was good.
