PROSPECTIVE MINISTERIAL STUDENTS IN HIGH SCHOOL GIVEN PROTECTION BY SELECTIVE SERVICE

By Russell Olt, Dean

One of the problems which Anderson College has faced along with other theological training institutions has been that of insuring the entrance into theological seminaries of sincere young men still in high school. Many of these young men became eighteen before high-school graduation, and under the regulations of Selective Service System which have been in effect such students were promptly inducted into the armed forces upon their graduation.

We are all very happy that National Selective Service headquarters has seen fit to change this regulation to provide under certain circumstances, that high-school students, whose sincerity in entering the ministry is well established and substantiated, are to be entitled to the IV-D classification upon registration at their eighteenth birthday even though they have not entered theological seminary.

The regulations simply provide that such students must apply for entrance to an approved theological seminary while yet in high school and before they are eighteen years of age. The theological seminary, after investigation, may accept any such student on condition that the student thereafter is in continuous attendance at school twelve months each year under the accelerated program, and, provided further that his course of study is prescribed by the theological seminary.

It is a matter of urgency for the future welfare of the church that all pastors should inform prospective ministers in their congregations of the provisions of this regulation with the suggestion that such high-school students make application immediately to Anderson College and Theological Seminary.

Repairs Made on College Buildings

Anderson College buildings have undergone a decided change this summer. Should one walk into all the buildings he would find that nearly every one of them has been changed in some way. Even the gymnasium has had some extra rooms made on the outside, which will be used for office space. If you were here for Camp Meeting, you probably saw the remodeled stage in the gym.

Trouble Shooter

Juanita Hunnex, Y3/c, is the first Wave Yeoman to become a part of the Treasure Island Chapel staff. Her duties are not only yeoman tasks, but include a share of the work of the Chapel in helping Uncle Sam's bluejackets with their problems.

Juanita is a seminary graduate, holding a Bachelor of Science degree, and an Alumna of Glendale Junior College. Her missionary family started her well-traveled education with ten years in the Orient, after which they returned to the United States so that she might begin her schooling.

No foreigner to royalty, the high point in her career was the day when she was crowned May Queen of her college, an honor and an experience to remember. Following graduation came a six months' loyalty to the Army as a civilian employee, but those loyalties were permanently transferred when she became Yeoman Hunnex of the United States Navy.

Her experience and education ideally suit her for the worth-while job she is doing, as well as offering proof of the kind of service well-trained Waves are rendering here at home.

From Personalities in the News, in The Masthead

NOTE: Juanita attended Anderson College from September 1939 until June 1943, when she received her B.S. in Religious Education.

I am always so delighted to receive the Alumni News. Those days spent in college were good old days never to be forgotten.

I am working in my own community. I had sixteen boys and girls in my class last Sunday—my own neighbors. I like to go after those who have never heard the gospel. May the Lord give us all more of a missionary spirit.

Please renew our subscription to the Alumni News. We are enclosing $2.00.

JAMES, '43, AND AGNES
(ADAMS) TRIMBLE

* * * *

The enclosed is for a little memorial—perhaps a tiny window, or lighting fixture, or any other item which could be purchased for this amount for the Chapel. No name attached to it, please. Or perhaps it should be included in the "Harvest Home" offering. I am confused, so you decide the place!

Having been a member of your first congregation, I am happy to see you steadily climb up. I am confident you are well qualified for the new job. God will bless you, I know.

GRACE M. WILCOX, '26

I received the Alumni News last week and surely did enjoy reading it. I always look forward to getting it.

I have enclosed one dollar for my 1944 membership card and will, after the first of October, send money to pay my back dues for 1942 and 1943. Is that correct with your records? If not, I will send the right amount when I hear from you.

RUBY LECOUNTTE, '41

* * * *

The Anderson Chapter of the Alumni Association will meet in the College Dining Hall on October 16 at 6:30 P.M.

Delinquent members, please note what Ruby says about back dues. Enuf said.

Religious Life at A.C.T.S. in '44-'45

By Earl L. Martin

This is written in faith—for at the time I am writing the college year has not yet begun, but I think I have some firm bases for my faith.

One basis is the record and experiences of twenty-seven years of history at A.C.T.S., first as Anderson Bible Training School, then as Anderson Bible School and Seminary, and then as Anderson College and Theological Seminary. The curriculum has changed much, faculty changes have come, and a few thousand students have come and gone, but the predominant emphasis—that of a thoroughgoing religious life—has not changed. As an alumnus and faculty member I think I can assure you that the Administration and Faculty and student body this year will carry on this religious tradition of your School.

Another ground of my faith is that I think we see more clearly each year that religion is a matter of all of life, just as we are seeing that education is for all of life. Even as we more clearly see that learning arises out of life, so religion, or man's relationship to his God, arises out of the experiences of daily life. Here we do not only teach religion and have the forms of religion, but we strive by the help of God to experience God, and the experiencing of God is in daily life. We try to take all the experiences of life and lift them up into the presence of God so that whether we eat or drink, work or play, laugh or weep, study or pray, all is religious.

I am writing in faith that the provisions for encouraging the religious life this year will not be fewer or less, but more and greater than in previous years.

The church services which the faculty and students will attend at the various congregations throughout the city and elsewhere, the Sunday-school classes organized for them, the chapel services three times weekly, the noon-day prayer meetings on days when chapel services are not held, the various group prayer meetings, the clubs—all of which are religious, occasional times of spiritual refreshing during a class session, more opportunities for personal counseling—all of these and more will make for reality in our religious life. These things are not merely tolerated or permitted, but they are positively promoted in their functioning by the Committee on Religious Life as well as by the Administration and student group in a general way.

I am writing this in faith because this year of all years is a critical year. We face a crisis in world history and we want to see Christianity function in this crisis, and as a Christian college we want to see not only our personal problems but the problems of the world, and be workers together with God in helping to solve those problems.

I am writing this in faith—faith that looks forward to the time in the very near future when many of our boys now in the Armed Forces around the world and in Civilian Service Camps will be back in these halls and on this campus with us again. We shall this year do our best to give God a larger place in our life here so that these boys may find when they come back to us a place where God is real, and so that in a small way at least we may serve them.

I am writing this by faith—for this year as formerly we shall have a faculty that are Christian, and a student body that is predominantly so. We shall likely have fifty to sixty ordained preachers in attendance. This ought to help the spiritual tone measurably.

I am writing in faith—in faith that all who read this will pray with us and for us and work with us to make this college year one that will be rich in religious living.

"In Indiana there are some twenty-seven nontax supported schools of higher learning, most of which are church-related institutions. Of this group, Anderson is the youngest. In enrollment this year Anderson is number five, Butler, Notre Dame, DePauw, Evansville having larger enrollments than Anderson."

—From the President's Report to the General Assembly, June 20, 1944

Our Anderson Pastors Extend a Warm Welcome

The Park Place Church of God, corner of Eighth Street and College Drive, extends a very hearty, Christian welcome to the students of Anderson College, especially to those who are coming to the College for the first time.

There are seven local congregations of the Church of God in this city, any of which will welcome you. We pastors all wish you to be happy in your church relationships here and to be free to attend where you desire.

We suggest that you become settled as soon as possible in the congregation of your choice and be as faithful as you were at home.

DR. E. A. REARDON, Minister

* * * *

The Arrow Heights Church of God, Arrow Avenue and Twelfth Street, extends to the students of Anderson College a hearty invitation to the fellowship of our services. It is our wish, in co-operation with the other congregations of the Church of God in Anderson, to make every contribution possible to the spirituality and progress of the College students.

REV. BOYCE W. BLACKWELDER, Minister

* * * *

On behalf of the members and friends of North Anderson Church of God, we extend a hearty welcome to all new and returning students of Anderson College. We are happy to have you in Anderson.

We offer to you the facilities and fellowship of North Anderson Church for your spiritual development and divine worship. The North Anderson bus stops at the church, Baldwin Avenue at Plum Street. REV. AND MRS. A. O. JENKINS

* * * *

The South Meridian Church is a church of friendly people. It offers Anderson College students a Sunday morning unified worship from 9:30 to 11:15, a Youth Fellowship meeting at 6:30 p.m. Sundays, with active parts for all young people regular in their attendance, a Sunday evening evangelistic service with a choir which is open to students. We are interested in the spiritual success of all our students.

REV. AND MRS. WILLIAM A. FLEENOR

ORDAINED MINISTERS

We have many here this year, not sure how many yet. They plan on having meetings among themselves to pray for the faculty, the students, the pastors, and folks back home. Will all the friends of the College please join in this prayer effort.

"I Love You Truly"

Our engagement list has fallen down, but just look at the wedding list! You will notice that most of those whom we list in our columns, "Wedding Bells" and "I Love You Truly," are present students. If any of you Alumni ever get engaged or married, we would like for you to send us a bit of information to that effect. So don't forget—let us hear from you.

We are happy to announce that—

Dorothy Morrison and Larry Adkins announced their engagement recently. At present Dorothy is in Anderson and Larry is pastor of the Church of God in Pratt, Kan.

Claudine Turner and Robert (Bob) McFarling announced their engagement at a party recently.

ANOTHER WELCOME

Welcome, Freshmen, and all students and faculty members of Anderson College. We are more than merely happy to have you in our presence. We know that you are going to be a help and an inspiration to us, and we are hopeful that we may be able to reciprocate.

Both the Anderson College and the Gospel Trumpet Company belong to the Church of God. This Company is the publishing house of the Church, and you are invited to visit us, inspect our offices and plant, and make this your shopping center for every type of Christian literature.

We Just Must Get It

About this time last year Dr. Morrison, our president, asked us in our Alumni News what we thought about the new chapel. I do not know what or how you answered him, but I know what your answer would be if you were here and tried to fit the student body into our present chapel. You would say, "Isn't it a shame that our College does not have adequate chapel facilities to accommodate our students!" You might even say something stronger than that. So, Dr. Morrison, the Alumni know the College needs a new chapel, and are ready to do our part. We plan to push hard on this project so that at the close of the war, and the "go" signal on building materials is given, the chapel will leave the dream stage and become a reality.

Seventh Annual—Nationwide HARVEST HOME-COMING of Anderson College Alumni and Friends November 21-22 (Tuesday and Wednesday), 1944

Plan to arrive Tuesday afternoon. Then, Homecomers' Dinner, Open House, and plenty of interesting and wholesome fellowship up to Wednesday noon.

Editorial

"Harvest hands" are scarce. They are urgently needed. This great lack is tragic. Jesus faced the problem of the shortage of harvest hands. "The laborers are few." He did something about it. Up and down the highways of Palestine he called for fishers of men and he got some good ones. A call from Jesus was a challenge in those days; it is no less a challenge today.

"Laborers are few" would command no serious attention if jobs were few. But when important work goes begging, then the scarcity of workers is a tragic thing. For how long will the spiritual harvest (or any harvest) wait on harvest hands? No course in agriculture is needed to find the answer.

Jesus was deeply moved as he faced a bumper crop, a "plenteous harvest," and he knew that most of it would perish for the want of harvest hands. He feels that his disciples should be deeply moved, too; but are we?

The work of gathering in the present spiritual harvest cannot be put off. To cast it into the lap of the next generation solves nothing and frees none of us from our responsibility. The fact that there will be a later harvest is not a legitimate excuse for neglecting the present harvest.

Jesus makes it clear that all of his disciples, knowing as they do the harvest facts, can and should pray the Lord of the harvest to challenge and engage more harvest hands. This is our clear duty and should be our glad duty: prayer and work for more and more workers for God's kingdom. Right here is where Anderson College comes into the picture. The College must challenge the youth of the Church to full-time service as harvest hands.

The Alumni Association considers the business of enlisting the Church's youth for kingdom building as one of its feature jobs. Alumni, give yourselves to this work. You cannot invest your time more profitably.

The College must help these young people find their places in the harvest field. Some young people coming to Anderson College know not what God wants them to do, but with a college like ours, constantly picturing to its students the big harvest and the few harvest hands, soon the call comes and the work is made clear.

Adult friends of Anderson College, you, too, have a part. You are to supply Anderson College with greater and more adequate buildings so the Church will be served by highly skilled workers.

ALUMNI NEWS

Welcome

By T. Franklin Miller
President Local Alumni Club

"Welcome" is a word we use so often that there may be a tendency for us to forget its true meaning. In the local Alumni Club here in Anderson, however, when we say "welcome" we really mean it.

Welcome, new Alumni! Of the students who graduated from the College last June and are now members of the National Alumni Association, there undoubtedly will be some living here in Anderson who will be members of the local Club. We welcome you sincerely, and hope you will find ways of working with us for the promotion of the best interests of our Alma Mater.

Welcome to our new students! This is being written before the registration of the fall semester so we do not know how many students are going to be enrolled this fall, but Dr. Morrison and Dean Olt tell us that it looks as if it is going to be another big year for the College so far as attendance and enrollment are concerned. As usual, these students come from east and west, north and south. Wherever they come from, we feel certain they will bring to the College a sincere and worthy ambition to become the very best persons God can make of them, and we welcome them to the city of Anderson and to Anderson College. Some of us will have the privilege of having some of you new students in our homes this year. We will try to have you out for dinner as often as possible, especially if you can bring a few ration points along with you when you come! We will sit with you in church services and meet you in other ways here in the city. We may not get to call all of you by your first name this first semester, but we do hope that you like Anderson College and Theological Seminary as well as we have come to love it, and that you will feel we are here to help you with the solving of any of your problems that may come up.

Welcome to the new faculty members! They will be presented to the College in the first chapel service in an official way, but just informally and unofficially, we members of the local Club want to make you feel at home here in Anderson, and we sincerely and honestly hope you will find warm fellowship and good will surrounding you in your work here in Anderson College.

Welcome to the Kanes! Rev. and Mrs. John H. Kane have moved into their new home across the street from the campus on College Drive and seem to be settling down to become permanent residents of this community. We are delighted to have them in our fellowship. John and Cynthia are loved throughout the Church, wherever they are known, and we feel more than thankful that we can have them here with us in Anderson. As the new Executive Secretary of the National Alumni Association, John Kane is already showing signs of ability to do good work, and we are expecting a lot of him this fall and winter. While we are welcoming the Kanes, let me tell you a little inside information. Our Alumni office here at the College has never had any furniture of its own, and we feel that it is about time the office was furnished by the Alumni Association. We do not feel like asking the National Association to do this so the local Club is taking it as a project, but perhaps some of the rest of you would like a share in it. We would like to have a good desk and chair for the secretary so he will have no excuse for not getting some work done. We need some good bookshelves or bookcases, and, of course, some chairs for the visitors to sit on when they come in to see John Kane. We ought to have a good rug on the floor, some draperies at the windows, and a few other things to make our Alumni office more than just four walls and a window or two. If you would care to help, you may send your contribution to the Alumni office at the College and mark it for this project.

And now a great big welcome to everybody who is already planning to come to the big Harvest Home-Come in November! This probably will be one of the biggest events we have had at the College for a long time, and the local Club is already making preparation to care for those who come from a distance. I suppose there are lots of Alumni pastors who are already planning ways to get here, and bring in their offerings of money or food or other things that are needed by the College. When you get here I think you will find that we have made ready for your coming.

If there is anybody else who ought to be on this list to be welcomed by the local Club, just sign your name on the dotted line and know that we welcome you to our fellowship and to our homes, and certainly do we count it a real privilege to have you with us whenever you can come here to Anderson.

FIRST CHAPEL PERIOD

The first chapel period of Anderson College was held September 29 at 9:40 A.M. President Morrison presided at this meeting, and Dr. A. Leland Forrest, Executive Secretary of the Youth Fellowship, was the speaker.

Wedding Bells

The third week end of September was surely a popular time for weddings. Seemed as if weddings were in progress at frequent intervals during the entire day of the sixteenth, because on that day—

MILDRED TURNER and FLOYD GRICE were married at South Side Church of God in Anderson.

MILDRED (BILLY) GENTRY and PAUL FRAZIER were married at Park Place Church of God in Anderson.

DELLA TAYLOR and LAWRENCE McCLURE were married at Arrow Heights Church of God in Anderson.

BELVA DODDS and CHARLES SCHAFFTER were married in Cambridge, N.Y.

ARLENE ALLS and HOMER SAULS were married in Roanoke, Va.

On the night of the same day our choir director, Milton Buettner, left choir practice for a short while to play for a wedding downtown. While he was gone, Dr. Reardon was called to his church study to perform the marriage ceremony for another couple. (One girl said everytime she saw a man and woman together that day she got suspicious.)

Two weddings for students were on September 18. MERLE SMITH and LLOYD GILBERT were married in Lanett, Ala. MARIE ESPER and PETE MEYER were married in Cleveland, Ohio.

DORIS COMEAU and WESLEY PIPPEN were married on September 2 in Boston, Mass.

BETTY JO SCHWEIGER and JACK HUTCHINSON had a lovely wedding on September 25 at the home of Judge Harold Achor, in Anderson.

ELAINE ANDERSON and CLIFFORD SCHROEDER have returned from Owatonna, Minn., where they were married on September 11.

CHARLOTTE BENKE and EARL VAN SIPE were married in Alpena, Mich., on August 5.

ARLENE AKERS and MAURICE MAUCH were married on July 2 in Liberal, Kan.

PROF. H. C. CLAUSEN and WANDA DAVIS were married on August 12, in Anderson.

LILLIAN BAUBLET and DEAN PRICE were married on September 20.

Attention, Alumni

Most of you know by now that the Alumni News tries to reach you every month. If your address changes or if you know of other Alumni address changes, please notify the Alumni office without delay.

No one is charged a subscription price for this paper, and yet many of you would gladly pay such a price before you would miss receiving the News. We do not contemplate any change in our policy of sending the Alumni News free to all Alumni members and other interested persons, but we do feel at liberty to call your attention to the matter of annual membership dues. If you have not cared for your dues, why not send in your dollar NOW, and then we'll all rest easy and give our attention to other important things. I have no disposition to overurge anyone for dues. The matter is so clearly understood that I think all of you will respond.

What I want to do is to render every member of the Alumni organization a real service. I give my pledge to hard work to cause everyone of you to know for sure that your organization is not just alive, but alive with a purpose that gives it a right to live well. Let's close this little chat by saying that we want to receive some news items from you, along with your dues for the present year—which closes May 1, 1945.

(Incidentally, if you make an annual personal gift to the Alumni Fund of ten dollars or more in a lump sum, we will consider your dues as paid.) I know you will be proud of your "orange and black" membership card. We want to keep the Alumni News going out every month to some 6,500 people, so give a lift in every way that you can.

J.H.K.

The Seams Burst

The second floor rooms in the north wing of the main building—formerly women's dormitory rooms—have been remodeled and made into seven class rooms. A new chemistry lab has been made right over the biology lab.

What was formerly the men's dormitory has now been made into a women's dormitory after much repairing and painting. Another new dorm for the women is the apartment house at 902 High Street. The third floor of the main building is still a women's dormitory, and a new, very up-to-date bathroom is just about completed up there.

The Patterson and Campbell houses have been made into men's dormitories. Also, the old dormitory on the campground is being used again. A number of men are staying in private homes.

You see, Anderson College is expanding rapidly and bursting the seams. We look forward to the time when there will be new dormitories that will comfortably accommodate all the men and women of the College.

Another Preacher Is Here

Rev. and Mrs. Boyce W. Blackwelder announce the birth of a son, Charles Boyce, on September 5, 1944. Rev. Blackwelder received his A.B. from Anderson College in 1936 and his B.D. in 1938, his M.A. in 1944 from Butler University. Mrs. Blackwelder is the former Miss Alice Lela Smith of Auburn, Indiana. (Congratulations to all three Blackwelders.)

Mrs. Lorena Drennen Passes Away

On September 16, 1944, Mrs. Lorena Drennen, aged seventy-five, wife of W. J. Drennen of Anderson, passed away at her home.

Mrs. Drennen is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. John A. Morrison, of Anderson; and Mrs. E. D. Johnson, of St. James, Mo.; and one son, Eugene Drennen, of Anderson.

FORMER REGISTRAR LEAVES FOR FURTHER STUDY

Miss Leona Nelson left Anderson on September 8 to attend the University of Chicago, where she won a scholarship. During her three years at Anderson College she taught American History and Sociology, and acted as College registrar.

Miss Nelson did social work two years in Indianapolis and Fort Wayne, Ind., before coming to Anderson College. She received her B.A. and Master's Degree at Butler University, in Indianapolis, and plans to get her Ph.D. at the University of Chicago.

Miss Euretha Sorrell, second-year student, of Lanett, Ala., has been employed as matron of Anderson College. Miss Sorrell is fitting into her new job well. The students have found her to be a very capable, energetic, and accommodating person.

Attention, Class of '20

Your class representative has written the following letter to your editor:

"I am glad you have accepted the new position at Anderson College. I am sure the good-will feature of the College will be amplified.

"I am class representative for the class of '20. Please send me all the names and addresses of the '20 class.

"I will be glad to do anything you will have me do. If you have a list of class projects, I shall be glad to work on one that my class may be able to handle."

H. G. MONTAGUE

We are sure Brother Montague's interest is typical of all Alumni of the '20 class. Write to him in Meridian, Miss., 1519 Sixth Street, and help him put over a class project. —EDITOR

Please help us bring our College Honor Roll of Servicemen up to date. Send us at once the names and addresses of those you know who attended Anderson College and have gone into the Service.

Concerning New Members of the Faculty

By Farilla David

Due to increased enrollment at Anderson College, as well as to the inroads which the Armed Forces' program has made on our staff, the College has recently added several new members to the Faculty. It is not always easy to fill the requirements of fine character and academic attainments in a college with the standards which our school maintains, and we are pleased, therefore, to have obtained new members of excellent Christian character as well as with the high academic rating and ability of those recently added to the staff.

Dr. Clifton W. White comes to Anderson from Colorado, where he was Director of Physical Education and basketball coach of Nebraska State Teachers' College. Dr. White has also been instructor of mathematics and physical education coach at Adams State Teachers' College as well as graduate assistant at the University of Oregon. He has been active in Boy Scout work, and was a member of the state committee in Health and Physical Education for two years in Colorado. Dr. White has a charming wife, and a small son who wins everyone with his sunny smile.

Miss Clarice Robinson, who is head of the Business Education Department, combines efficiency and good nature to an unusual degree. Dr. Robinson came from Indiana University, where she has the past year been teaching both in the U.S. Naval Training School for Waves and in the School of Business. Prior to that she was for a number of years chairman of the business department at Elkhart Senior High School. Her academic credits are all from Indiana University.

We are pleased to have secured Miss Louise Johnson as our new Registrar to fill the place recently vacated by Leona Nelson, who is working on her doctor's degree at the University of Chicago. Miss Johnson, who was a student at Anderson College in 1935-1936, is from Gordon, Neb. She has her degree from State Teachers' College, Chadron, Neb., and taught mathematics at Gordon High School prior to entering Butler University for further degree work. Miss Johnson's happy disposition and lovely red hair gives added significance to the Registrar's office.

Another new face is that of Miss M. Winifred Knapp, recently head cataloguer in the Harvard School of Business Administration. Miss Knapp has come to reclassify and catalogue our library. She is expert in her work, and we shall soon have a library system installed which will be second to no small library in academic circles. This has been a long recognized need at the College, and it is with a great deal of satisfaction that we announce the addition of Miss Knapp to our staff.

Dr. Dorothy Bryant, graduate of the University of Cincinnati, will direct our Department of English this year. Dr. Bryant is a young woman of sterling qualities who comes highly recommended with regard to fine Christian character, as well as to her scholastic accomplishments. Dr. Bryant was assistant in the English Department at the University of Cincinnati, and for the past two years she has been head of the English Department at Ashland, Ky. She has been active in athletics, the Y.W.C.A., and has done extensive church and Sunday-school work as pianist and teacher, as well as acting as Junior Counselor for the Girl Scouts and chairman of the legislative committee in A.A.U.W. Her hobbies are drawing and writing.

Dr. Nancy Osborne, who taught French and Spanish last year, will add to her responsibilities that of acting Dean of Women. We have had few with finer qualities than Dr. Osborne, and her kindness and concern for the welfare of the students will recommend her to all who contact her. Dr. Osborne is acting for Dean Deubach who is on sabbatical leave, and who will receive her doctor's degree from the University of Colorado this year.

OFFICIAL NOTICE COLLEGE SUNDAY

Annual—Nation-wide
November 12, 1944

HARVEST HOME-COMING

Annual—Nation-wide
November 21 and 22, 1944

(Signed) Executive Committee

REASONS WHY—

You are asked to support Anderson College and Theological Seminary because—

1. OUR FOREIGN MISSIONARY WORK must have trained workers. At least two-thirds of our present foreign missionary staff received training at Anderson College.
2. OUR HOME MISSIONARY WORK must have qualified workers. Most of our present force of Home Missionaries working under our Home Missions Board have taken courses at Anderson College.
3. OUR EVANGELISM ADVANCE looks to Anderson College for workers to fill the many places now neglected because of the serious problem of harvest hands.

These causes, and all the rest, must go on. So Anderson College must go on. It should have the support of every member of the Church of God. We ought to give our College $10,000 and more on November 12, 1944, Annual College Sunday.

Campus News

By Wilma Ratcliff

Once again the typewriter is rattling away trying to get together some campus news that might be of interest to Alumni and students. At this time of the year Anderson College, as well as most colleges, begins to liven up a bit. It's really swell to see old friends returning and new friends arriving. Some students have been on vacations, others have worked at home, and others have taught in vacation church schools. Some have worked in migrant camps and trailer camps, and still others have worked in the mountains.

WILMA REEDER recently returned from Beebe and Grand Junction, Mich., where she worked in a children's nursery.

RUTH LUKE has arrived from her home in Yale, Okla. After all the visits she took, we wonder if she were at home much of the time. Ruth attended the Kansas Youth Camp, sewed, dug oil wells, and drove tractors during the summer. She is now working in the Youth Fellowship office.

When TOULA WEIKOS came "home" after her short vacation, it sounded as if the whole town turned out to greet her. We could tell that she'd had a vacation because she looked tired.

Activities have continued to buzz right through the summer—marriages, parties, teas, classes, and C.O.D.'s.

On September 7 a group of women who have formed a new club met in the faculty reception room for their club meeting. MRS. LESTER CROSE gave high lights on life in Barbados.

A surprise outdoor party was given on the night of September 5, in honor of CPL. A. EUGENE WILLIAMS, student '40-'42, who was home on furlough. The party was planned by his wife, Dorothy, student '41-'44, and was given at the home of his parents. Gene has been in various sections of the South Pacific working in hospitals during the past fifteen months.

On August 20 about sixty college students and friends enjoyed a lawn fete on the College campus. Among those present was GRANT GENSKE, Q.M. 3/c, who was a student in '42-'43. Snappy outdoor games were played until midnight, and delicious homemade ice cream and cookies were served to all the guests.

A party was given on September 8 by members of the College office force in honor of MISS LEONA NELSON, College registrar, who left Anderson that same afternoon to attend the University of Chicago. At this party MISS LOUISE JOHNSON, new College registrar, was introduced to the office force members. No speeches were made so everyone enjoyed the delicious refreshments that were served.

Josie has left us. You know Josie, don't you? She's the one who usually got the "tail-end" of our dormitory troubles. We ran to her for our door keys when we locked ourselves out of the room (or when someone else did it). She's the one who had our beds arranged and gave us pillows. She's the one for whom we tried to straighten up our rooms every Wednesday. She's the one who greeted us on our arrival at the College and provided "quarters" for us. Yes, Josie is THE ONE. She bore lots of our little complaints, but was always cheerful, kind, accommodating (and redheaded).

Josie Dell Trigleth, '44, that's her full name, is going to attend Scarritt College in Nashville, Tenn., where she won a scholarship. While attending Anderson College, she won not only a scholarship, but many friends, as well, who will remember her as a swell college matron.

Dear Mr. Kane:

I just received my copy of the Alumni News and want to congratulate you on your new undertaking. I wish you all the success possible.

Even though I am not an alumnus of A.C.T.S., I feel that I am part of the College, having been on the Faculty for four years. I enjoy reading the News. It is one method to keep soldiers in Service informed as to what is happening around there.

Again my best wishes.

PFC. RAY EDGAR MAY
